STEP 2: Search for the course by putting 'Transport'

The search can take up to 2', please be patient.

The screenshot shows the Open Education Blackboard interface. At the top left, it says "Open Education powered by Blackboard". On the right, there are navigation links for "HOME", "COURSE CATALOG", and "INSTITUTIONS". The main heading is "Welcome, test" with the subtext "Search or browse the course catalog to get started". A search bar contains the text "Transport" and a magnifying glass icon. To the right of the search bar is a "View All Courses" link. Below this, the "Upcoming Courses" section features a course card for "The Art and Science of Memory: 5 Keys to Learning" by Charles Darwin University. The course card includes a thumbnail image with the text "The art & science of MEMORY" and a list of instructors: "MOOCs @CDU". An "Enroll" button is located to the right of the course card.

STEP 4: Click on 'Go to Course' and you arrive on the 'Welcome' page

The screenshot displays the 'Welcome' page of a MOOC. At the top, there is an orange navigation bar with a home icon, the text 'Welcome', and a user profile icon. Below this is a sidebar menu with the following items: 'Transport systems and transport policy: An introduction' (with a home icon), 'COURSE MANAGEMENT', 'Control Panel', 'Content Collection' (with a right arrow), 'Course Tools', 'Evaluation' (with a right arrow), 'Grade Centre' (with a right arrow), 'Users and Groups', 'Customisation' (with a right arrow), 'Packages and Utilities' (with a right arrow), and 'Help'. A 'Quick Unenrol' button is located below the sidebar. The main content area features a large background image of a modern highway interchange at night. Below the image is a 'Welcome' heading with a dropdown arrow, followed by three yellow buttons: 'Build Content' (with a dropdown arrow), 'Assessments' (with a dropdown arrow), and 'Tools' (with a dropdown arrow). A document icon is followed by the text 'Welcome to the MOOC on Transport systems and transport policy: An introduction?!' (with a dropdown arrow) and 'Enabled: Statistics Tracking'. The bottom section of the page shows a street view image of a city street with brick buildings, a sign for 'Boogaerderie', and a person on a bicycle.
