

ORPHEUS premeeting 13 April 2023

Thursday morning:

Premeeting: Both workshops will be given twice in parallel
Chaired by: Annedorte Vad (University of Copenhagen, Denmark) & Patrick Calders (Ghent University, Belgium)

9.00-10.30h

How to make a graphical abstract – Luk Cox & Idoya Lahortiga (Somersault1824, Belgium)

How to make your research instafamous – Kristof D'hanens (I Like Media, Belgium)

10.30-11.00h coffee break

11.00-12.30h

How to make your research instafamous – Kristof D'hanens (I Like Media, Belgium)

How to make a graphical abstract – Luk Cox & Idoya Lahortiga (Somersault1824, Belgium)

12.30-13.30h lunch

Thursday afternoon:

Opening:

13.30-13.45h Welcome by John Creemers (President ORPHEUS)

13.45-14.00h Opening by rector Luc Sels (KU Leuven)

Session 1: Open Science part 1

Chair: Janet Carton (University College Dublin, Ireland)

14.00-14.30h Open Science = open for business - why you should make it your business!
Lennart Martens (Ghent University and VIB, Belgium)

14.30-15.00h The future of research assessment in the Open Science era. Robert Harris
(Karolinska Institute, Sweden)

15.00-15.15h The Good Scientists: a volunteer-based platform for young researchers to engage with the third sector. Léna Prouchet (Exeter University, UK)

15.15-15.45h Coffee

Session 2: Open Science part 2

Chair: Rudolf Schubert (University of Augsburg, Germany)

15.45-16.15h Why it is not all about the data; how can scientists counteract fake social media news. Laura Smillie (EC policy analyst, Belgium)

16.15-16.45h Dealing with aggression as a high-profile scientist in the news; the experience of a virologist during covid. Marc van Ranst (KU Leuven, Belgium)

16.45-17.15h Explaining the need for animal experiments to the general public - A Walk on the Tight Rope. Sabine Chourbaji (Heidelberg University, Germany)

17.15-17.30h Getting the most out of a scientific congress is a transferable skill: The Congress Academic Mentorship Program. Ferhand Sagin (Ege University Medical School, Turkey)